October.

The month of September is golden.

But the month of the maples is red;

The elm tree is yellow and olden,

Its leaves are half gone from its head!

We ride in the heart of the forest,

The lichen are grown on each trunk;

Red beech leaves are bruised to the soot,

And into wood hollows are sunk.

We scent the musk breath of October.

The fragrance of soft woodland smells.

The green of the mosses is sober.

The rainbow tints pale in the dells.

The spiders' thin gossamer weavings

Seem like cotton fields against the blue sky;

Their webs are forever deceiving,

And cheat us as well as the fly.

GO AND LEARN A TRADE.

Ill sing a little song to-night,

And every word is true.

You'll find that every line I mean,

Young gentlemen for you I've written down to-day.

In what is sung or said—

The sum and substance of it is,

To go and learn a trade.

The "coming out" of "nice young men,"

To be his fortune made,

Whom every body will respect,

Because he learned a trade.

Your education may be good,

But time is fleeting by.

Instead of working don't be fooled!

The old man may not die;

And if he should the chances are,

His will may be mislaid,

Or you cut off without a cent,

So go and "learn a trade."

The country's full of "nice young men,"

Whom every body respects,

Who think "twould crush their family pride

If you should go to work;

Take off your coat (your father did,)

And find some honest maid,

Who'll help you make your fortune, when

You've learned an honest trade.

Be temperate in all you do,

Be faithful to your "boss";

You'll find the more you do for him,

Will never prove a loss.

You'll find it safe years from now,

When fame and fortune's made,

The best step that you ever took,

Was when you learned a trade.

Heavenly Recognition.

1. How I long again to see them,

Who were dear to me in life,

Who have joined the Heavenly legions,

Far from pain, and toil, and strife.

2. Is it wrong to mourn their absence,

From the home-hold to that land,

Can we check the pining sorrow

Though they're rejoined that happy band.

3. I've a mother dear in glory,

O then tell me if you will,

Ex-President Johnson's Speech.

The ex-President was serenaded in Washington on Thursday night, and made a speech in substance as follows:

If any came here expecting him to argue questions and to make an oratorical display or exhibit his works, all he had to say there would be a disappointment. Even if he had the mental power he had not the physical strength on the present occasion. What he would say now would be by way of inquiry, and he would ask what kind of a Government we have now? We need to have some idea that there was a constitution (laughter) and constitutional Government. And as I argued when I first made my appearance as a member of Congress, the inquiry formerly was as to the powers conferred upon the Government. It was thought long ago there was a limitation to power both as to the several States and the General Government under that instrument. Such was the view of Washington, the father of his country, who was first in peace and first in war and who sacrificed his ease and received no pay for his services. And so thought Jefferson and those great men who framed the constitution. When he first came to Congress there were two great parties, the Whigs and the Democrats. He wished to bring the country under their control. He feared the people would never again have two such parties. The difference between them was merely this—the Democrats contended for a strict construction, while the Whigs claimed a little more latitude. While these parties were thus opposed they both agreed in the essential principle, that there was a constitution. But how was it now or with in the last four or six years. When a measure was brought up in Congress and its constitutionality was questioned the reply would be in effect, "I have the Constitution." We have got the numbers (laughter) and while he was here as a friend of the constitution battling and contending for its execution the constitution was taken from the archives, and its constitutionality was questioned. The query came up, what kind of a Government have we? The consequences of the war had perfectly effaced and wiped out the limitations and restrictions of the constitution. The people therefore require to be indoctrinated in the principles of the constitution. It was established. The whole thing is wiped out and Congress is without restraint where are we? Having a Government controlled by a body of men without limitation as to power, no constitution to restrain them, but acting according to their own will and interest, have the most efficient remedy ever permitted to be established. Rather than accept such a body of men, calling themselves Congress or parliament or courts, with unlimited power, give him a wise and just Prince in preference. If we are to have a government, let us have one that will be a blessing to the people. The query came up, what kind of a Government have we? The consequences of the war had perfectly effaced and wiped out the limitations and restrictions of the constitution. The people therefore require to be indoctrinated in the principles of the constitution. It was established. The whole thing is wiped out and Congress is without restraint where are we? Having a Government controlled by a body of men without limitation as to power, no constitution to restrain them, but acting according to their own will and interest, have the most efficient remedy ever permitted to be established. Rather than accept such a body of men, calling themselves Congress or parliament or courts, with unlimited power, give him a wise and just Prince in preference. If we are to have a government, let us have one that will be a blessing to the people.

He then spoke of the increase of plunder, the people being taxed to subserve the interests of particular classes. This injustice applied to both the Federal Government and the States. He wished it were possible to have an amphitheatre constructed to seat all the people of the country, so that when the certain was drawn they could see what was going on. There would then be such a reaction as was never felt or heard of before. But it might be said this was all talk. We can carry the elections. How early they while heavy taxes are being laid on the people. The whole thing was corrupted and therefore controlled by many in the hands of those who are not the people's friends. A great deal had been said about Cynicism. He never was a partisan in politics or a fanatic in religion. The world was his home and every honest man his brother. He was a friend of Burke, the eminent British statesman. "When bad men had combined for corruption, the time has come when good men should combine to resist encroachments on the constitution and country." Let then the good, honest and pure men associate in a common cause to resist all encroachments on constitutional liberty. He knew there were societies called Granges but beyond this he did not care. If they would only take under their control the State and National Government and administer and preserve them for the interests of the people to this he would say amen. So be it.

He then branched off on the subject of finance, advocating gold and silver as the basis of the currency, withdrawing all the National Bank notes, and issuing for them greenbacks to be received in payment of all Government dues. He maintained by this means was would return to specie payments. The idea that there was not gold and silver enough for this purpose was an

A Liberal Proposition.

The next being a year of general election, we desire to increase the circulation of our paper, and to assist in the accomplishment of this object, we now make the following proposition:
To all new subscribers, who will pay the advance price $2, we will furnish the Republican until the close of the year 1874, and we will do the same for all our present subscribers who pay up arrears and one year in advance. We will thus obtain from this time the paper for more than fifteen months, for the advance price of one year. We will also, if desired, furnish "Wood's Household Magazine," an able and interesting monthly, of unexceptionable moral tone, for one year, by the payment of 50 cents extra.
This proposition will be kept open while there is any advantage in it.

Messrs. Grant, DEAR SIR:—I see in the last week's Republican a request that some friend would send you a list of the officers of the grange organized at this place. I supposed the Secretary would have sent you a list last week. As he has not done so I will give you the names so far as recollected:

A. W. Stewart, Master.
L. C. O'Brien, Overseer.
D. W. S. Acker, Lecturer.
G. E. Reedy, Chaplain.
Wm. Brock, Treasurer.
M. T. Lott, Secretary.
Taylor Acker, Steward.
Thomas Moor, Ass't. Steward.
Scott Nabors, Gate Keeper.
Female officers not recollected. I think we number about 25 in all.

Very Respectfully,
A. M. STEWART.

Judge Luzor, of St. Clair County,

is gathering from fifty to sixty bushels of corn to the acre, from Coosa creek lands, that have been in cultivation fifty years. These lands can be bought for seven dollars an acre. This beats Texas.

About five or six noble hearted subscribers to the Republican, out of about six hundred, came up during Court, and paid their subscription dues, in answer to our late touching appeal. Others walked around us, and never said Turkey. We are going to revise our subscription list soon, and all names not pretty well up, according to the figures, will have to go off. We have found out that appeals for aid do no good.

Our Texas subscribers and others residing out of the State, are requested to forward their subscription dues immediately. In future we shall send no paper outside the State unless it is paid for in advance.

See notice of Male strayed or stolen, and do a worthy and industrious man all the good you can by giving information.

The usual monthly Scientific Lecture will take place at Calhoun College on Saturday, Nov. 1st, beginning at 7:30 P. M. The public is respectfully invited to attend.

Have you paid your last month's account?
If not, don't ask for credit, you will be refused.

Fine WATER-PROOF GOODS at Woodward's—Cheap.

In Wood's Household Magazine for November, the table of contents seems spread for a Thanksgiving feast, and gives evidence that no efforts have been spared that could add to its excellence. "A Sermon on a Skimmer," is not only pleasing in its quaintness, and originality, but contains logic. "Mrs. Pomeroy's Pin Money," is capital. "Upon the Stand," is another meritorious sketch, by the popular writer, Kate W. Hamilton. "Codfish and Potatoes," by Eleanor Kirk, is a short story which opens well. "Growing Aged Together," by Alice, is a well written story, worth the price of a year's subscription. This is the greatest mass of eloquence—powerful in its very simplicity. There are many other interesting articles, had we space to mention them. The poetry in this number is unusually good. A new feature of the magazine is the introduction of pictures, and the illustration, "Past, Present and Future," here given, is exceedingly pretty.

Price of Magazine, one dollar per year—with the chrono "Yosemite," one dollar and a half. Address Wood's Household Magazine, Newburgh, New York.

Electric Magazine.—The "Electric" for November is especially strong in literary biography. Whittier's sad and noble character looks out upon the reader from the frontispiece, and in the letter-press is an appreciative sketch of his life; while a brilliant paper on Johann Friedrich Schiller forms the lead article of the number. Besides these there is a fine E. S. biography, and critical, on Milton, by Peter Bayne; and in another field, the impressive sketch of Madame de Maintenon, and the Last Years of Louis XIV. will arrest attention.

Science these are papers on Finding the Way to Sea; Physical Education; and The Ringed Planet. And in miscellaneous articles, besides the new story by Turgeneff, commenced in last number, there are extracts from Victor Hugo's "L'Anne Terrible," Parallel Stories; Greek Beauty and Modern Art; How the "Statesman" was written; Chess; and Premieres Amours. The Editorial Departments are very full and interesting.

Published by E. R. Pelton, 108 Fulton Street, New York. Terms, $5 a year, two single copies, 25¢. Single number, 45 cents.

BORTONBES.

Just listen to the way the Guinnessville Eagle fastens its talons into the "war-path." He made a speech at Warren Superior Court, in which he said he was "in favor of enacting the usury law of James the First, which not only subjects the offender to the forfeiture of his money, but inflicts in addition corporal punishment with a cat-tail."

Why didn't the General propose the cat-tail as a weapon in the duel he didn't fight with Gov. Brown? He is always in favor of the "sword," "torch" and "cat-tail" punishments until he meets "a foe man worthy of his steel," and then he is willing to take a "cock-tail" in his, and stop it.

The Memphis Avalanche gives the following item: As a part of the history of the ravages of the scourge in North Memphis, we place on record the fact of the inmates of the boarding house known as the Mississippi House, corner of Market and Front streets. The landlord is Joe Sanford, whose family consisted of a wife and two children. In this house were eighteen boarders. Of all these, there were only Joe Sanford and one boarder who survived. All the rest, twenty, died.

The New York Sun says: At last we are to have from one of the greatest of Southern Generals his account of the war. We refer to General Joseph E. Johnston, whose history of his campaigns is soon to be published in an octavo volume by Mr. Appleton. It is to be embellished with portraits of distinguished officers and maps of the various scenes of operations.

Line for Toothache.

A correspondent of an English Magazine gives the following curious remedy: Put a piece of quick lime as big as a walnut in a pint of water in a bottle. Clean the teeth with a little of it every morning, rinsing the mouth with clean water afterwards. If the teeth are good it will preserve them and keep away toothaches; if the teeth are away, it will harden the gums so that they will masticate crusts and all.

Watertown, N. Y. Oct. 24.

Robert Lexington, aged 110 is dead. He was a great hunter in Northern New York. He lost a leg at the age of 80. Several of his children between 80 and 90 years old were at his funeral.

The corner beaties are rejoicing in prospect of the fall elections. It has been a long time since they have had a good square drink at the expense of the loving candidate.

New England Prosperity.

The New Hampshire State Board of Agriculture make the following reports:

Nine-tenths of our sons, at least, leave the farm for more lucrative employment. Ten per cent. of our farms have been abandoned to wood and pasture, and more than twenty per cent. have been partly abandoned, a few fertile acres only, embracing, perhaps, an interval and meadow, being retained as a hay field.

Farming is less remunerative in this town than any other occupation equally honorable. Hence our sons leave the farm, not to shun manual labor but to obtain more pay for their services, and consequently the farms are partly abandoned. The old farm-house, once the abode of thrift and prosperity, has gone into dilapidation and decay, and become the abode of wild beasts and reptiles.

So it seems that farming is unprofitable in other sections than this. A Western contemporary points out that Massachusetts agriculture is in the same state of decay as that of New Hampshire: that "when small farms are sold to be used before, the purchaser is some saving Irishman, who is content to perform with his own hands the labor from which the native American shrinks, and which it will not pay to hire. Meanwhile manufacturers are developing, and great corporations are swallowing up the smaller establishments run by individual owners. There are counties in Massachusetts once inhabited by an intelligent, industrious and moderately prosperous yeomanry, which are now mainly peopled by mill hands, between whom and their employers there is as wide a social gulf as between the same classes in old England. The change is not a pleasant one for either the philanthropist or the eulogist of New England institutions to contemplate, but its reality is every year becoming more apparent."

Living Advertisements.

A medicine that has done more than all the prescriptions of the pharmacopoeia to protect the human system against the bodily ailments superinduced by unhealthy surroundings, is certainly worthy of universal confidence. It is mainly on account of its extraordinary preventive properties that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is so exceedingly popular in localities subject to the visitation of miasmatic fevers and other diseases introduced by enervated air. A family that has a supply of this Bitters as a safeguard is a living advertisement of the virtues of the preparation. The whole neighborhood realize the fact. "I could not believe what our son," says another. "It is the very thing we need in this unhealthy section of country," remarks a third. And the result is that the instinct of self-defense, the first law of nature, induces three-fourths of the community to obtain a supply of the great vegetable antidote before the next season requires extra vigor and elasticity to enable it to battle the effects of damp and cold, the Bitters will be found particularly serviceable. Rheumatism will not be apt to fasten upon muscles and nerves that have been braced up by this excellent purgative and nerve tonic nor will the severities of the season, which have such a disastrous effect on the pulmonary organs of the feeble and delicate, be likely to exercise the same untoward influence where the stomach and the external surface of the body (which always sympathizes with the digestive organs) have been toned and stimulated by a course of the restorative. The fits of indigestion and irregularities of the bowels which proceed from sudden changes of weather may always be averted by the timely use of the Bitters.

Penny Davis' Pain Killer.—We have often spoken of this great medicine in terms of very high praise, and we have as often felt that all we could say in its favor would not do it full justice. It is one of those medicines of which we can speak—and speak decisively—from experience; for we have repeatedly taken it, and invariably with the same results and greatest satisfaction. We always keep it on hand, ready for any emergency, and we regard it not only as one of the best medicines in use for various ills, but as one of the cheapest also. Its cost by the way—that is the cost of the ingredients of which it is composed—has been considerably increased, but the price of the medicine has been but very little advanced. It is not likely that the popularity of Davis' Pain Killer will in any measure decrease, or that the demand for it will in any degree decline, until some other specific for allaying pain and curing various complaints for which it is so generally used, shall be discovered, of equal potency with it—of which there seems to be but little probability. As a remedy for stomach complaints, such as dyspepsia, diarrhea, &c., the Pain Killer is without doubt unsurpassed, and everywhere most deservedly in demand. One, two, or three doses, of a teaspoonful each in a wine glass of milk and water, with a little sugar, have repeatedly within our knowledge, effectually cured serious trouble of this kind. Judgment should undoubtedly be used in checking certain stages of diarrhea too suddenly; but taken at the proper time, the Pain Killer will act like a charm, and the quickly cure when nothing else will.

DESIRABLE.

Every family will find it desirable to keep Magic Astringent Lotion on hand. It is composed of Extract of Astringent, Chlorophyll and rare essential oils, chemically combined, and is always ready, never becoming solid or rancid. It is beyond question the most powerfully penetrating ingredient made and one bottle is worth a gallon of any other kind.

READ THE EVIDENCE.

Irka, Miss., July 26, 1869.

Messrs. Mansfield & Hyatt.

GENTLEMEN: The following are voluntary statements. I make them alone for the good of the suffering. When I was in your city you recommended to me and advised me to buy the Magic Astringent Lotion. My reply was, I had no confidence in patent nostrums. I told you of a hurt I received eleven years since, that had not been relieved, but was increasing with age. You then presented me with a bottle of this Lotion. I took it through courtesy to you. A week after I used it I found relief. I applied it twice each day for two weeks. Since that time I have felt no pain, but feel as well as I did twenty years ago. The bottle of Lotion has been worth more to me than the bottle filled with gold would have been. I have made the Lotion known to all who find relief with pain from rheumatism, or any other ailment, a shewer. It recommended itself where ever sold.

I am, Sir, yours, &c.

EMIGRATION TURNING!

Cheap Farms in South-west Missouri.

The Atlantic & Pacific Railroad Company offers 1,200,000 acres of land in Central and South-west Missouri, at $2 to $12 per acre, on seven years' time, with free transportation from St. Louis to all points on the line. The land is fertile, well watered, and has a fine soil. It is well adapted for growing wheat, corn, and other crops. It is also well adapted for raising stock. The land is sold in small tracts, and is well adapted for small farmers. The land is sold at a low price, and is well adapted for small farmers.

St. Louis, Mo.

Beyond the Mississippi!

Thousands have already gone, and thousands more are turning their eyes towards new homes in the fertile West. To those going to Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Nevada, Oregon, or California, we recommend a cheap, safe, quick and direct route, via St. Louis, over the Missouri Pacific Railroad, which runs its fine Day Coaches and Pullman Sleepers from St. Louis to principal points in the West, without change. We believe that the Missouri Pacific is the best route to all points west of the Mississippi, and its connections with roads further West are prompt and reliable. The Texas connection of this road is now completed, and passengers are offered a first class all-rail route from St. Louis to Texas, without change. Kansas, Texas, and California are all reached in a direct line. For maps time tables, information as to rates, routes, &c., we refer our readers to E. A. Ford General Passenger Agent, St. Louis Mo. Questions will be cheerfully and promptly answered.

HOE OUT YOUR ROW.

ONE lazy day, a farmer's boy

Was hoeing out the corn

And moodily had listened long

To hear the dinner-horn!

The welcome blast was heard at last,

And down he dropped his hoe—

The good man shouted in his ear,

"My boy, hoe out your row."

Although a hard one was the "row,"

To use a plowman's phrase,

And at the last he sat down say,

Beginning well to "hiss."

"I can," said he, and manfully

He seized again his hoe—

The good man smiled, and pleased to see

"The boy hoe out his row."

The lad the text remembered then,

And proved the moral well—

That perseverance to the end

At last will nobly tell.

Take courage, man! resolve you can,

And strike the vigorous blow.

In life's great field of care and toil.

Always hoe out your row.

AN AUTUMN IDYL.

O October! fair October!

The month of all the year!

November's cold and frosty hand

Shall deem thee autumn bier.

The harvest gleamed reminds us all

That we must pass away.

That those who reach the heavenly

Here work and watch and pray

The many colored landscape scenes

Stretched far and wide around,

Portray unnumbered beauties

That in nature may be found.

On distant hill and forest deep

The change creeps slowly on,

As stars before the God of day

Fade softly one by one.

O October! fair October!

Death bed of the flowers!

With thee God's floral poems end,

And Heaven weeps in showers.

The foliage changed, the withered

leaves

Returning to the earth,

The evening's chill, all hid us seek

The cheerful blazing hearth.

On thy fair bosom, River Charles,

That winds so placid by

Mr. Nature's still and quiet shades

Beneath a willow spray.

In Autumn time I love to float;

And on my oars to rest,

As Phœbus' car sinks slowly down,

Far in the golden West.

O October! fair October!

Full many a pleasant day

In thy balmy Indian Summer,

Alone I've strolled away.

To sit beside some crystal stream

In Sylvan haunts and glades

To see the rippling water flow,

And watch the wary trout.

A Liberal Proposition.

The next being a year of general elections, we desire to increase the circulation of our paper, and to assist in the accomplishment of this object, we now
make the following proposition:
To all new subscribers, who will pay
the advance price $2, we will furnish the Republican until the close of the year 1874; and we will do the same for all our present subscribers who pay up
arrears and one year in advance.
They will thus obtain from this time
the paper for more than fifteen months,
for the advance price of one year. We will also, if desired, furnish "Wood's Household Magazine," an able and interesting monthly, for one year, by the payment of 50 cents extra.
This proposition will be kept open
while there is any advantage in it.

Three Thousand Acres of Land to be Divided.

Col. PARR, owns several plantations which he proposes to sell on time in parcels to suit Purchasers, and give long time to pay for it. Poor men now is the time to buy a home. Lands
situated in a healthy locality, convenient
to market, and some of the finest cotton lands in the State. At very low figures,
call and examine the property.
(Call on L. J. Parr, J. Seymour or J.
S. Montgomery.)

Ed L. Woodward has received still another lot of pretty Calicoes, Alpaca Linens, Broadens, Flannels, &c. He sells for cash, and you will save money by making your purchases from him.

ITEM.—No more reboiled Molasses.
H. FITZ & Co., take pleasure in informing their patrons that they have just received a lot of the real old fashioned Sugar House Molasses—the present
pan crop.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Col. Parr is building a balcony in front of his store. Dr.
C. C. Porter is just completing himself
a handsome cottage residence. Mr. W.
T. Alexander is painting his cottage.

We are pleased to be able to state that Mr. Jas. Farmer has given out his Texas
trip, and will remain in the post-office
at this place, where he has heretofore
served so faithfully.

Mr. Grant.—Please publish in your paper which meets the eyes of all the good people of this section of the country, that at our recent monthly Examination from little boys constituting one of our Geography classes all made perfect recitations. I tried for one hour to determine; by close questioning, which
of the four should be considered the best
scholar, but failed to find any difference
in them.

The boys were:
Lee Weaver,
Willie Driskill,
James Hart,
Iverson Watson.

Your's &c.,
S. H. LOCKETT.

We learn by letter that Mr. J. W.
Willis will be here soon with a dozen
first class mules for sale, which he has succeeded in buying in Tennessee. Parties wishing to buy stock guaranteed to be good had better wait the coming of Mr. Willis.

The Commissioners Court has been in session the past week, and have dispatched business with their wonted fidelity
and promptness. We can safely say,
without reflection on any previous set of Commissioners, that Calhoun County
never before had a better Commissioners Court than the present one.

The Minutes of the Ten Islands Association have been printed some days and are ready at this office for delivery. The Minutes of the Tallahassee Association are also printed and ready for delivery.

The Members of Hiram Lodge No.
42, will please call and settle their annuity dues Nov. 5th 1873.

The Rabbit Town Road.

At a meeting of the town council, held on the 5th inst., the following action
was held in relation to the above named
road.

RESOLVED, That the town council of Jacksonville assume the responsibility of keeping up the public road leading from Jacksonville to Rabbit Town from the corporate limits of the town of Jacksonville to the top of the Mountain east of said place.

RESOLVED, That the said town council pledges itself as a body to have said
road worked out and kept in good condition until the May term of the Commissioners Court, in the year 1874.

The Concert and Dramatic Entertainment of the Baptist Church, which will come off between the 15th and 17th inst.,
promises to be the best thing of its kind
which Jacksonville has witnessed in a long time. The object is a worthy one,
and the play will be good. We advise all who wish to enjoy the Dramatic Entertainment or contribute to a worthy object to attend. Next week we will give the precise day on which the entertainment will be held.

The Companions of James Penn Chap-
lin No. 30, and of Adoniram Council No.
10, will call and settle their annual dues
before the Grand Convocation in December next.

seima Fair.

We invite special attention to the notice in to-days paper of the Grand Exposition, which is to commence on the 27th inst., and continue five days. No labor or expense has or will be spared by
the officers having the matter in charge,
to make the approaching one the Grandest Fair ever held in the State. Numerous and liberal premiums will be awarded, and several new and interesting
features will be added.

Excursion trains will be run, and all
railroads and steamboats will carry passengers to the Fair at half rates. We bespeak for this Fair a liberal patronage
from this section. Our friends can lose nothing, but may gain considerably by a few days attendance. Let us encourage home enterprise and industry; and there is no other or better way by which we can do so more effectively than by attending this Fair.

Attention is directed to tax notice of E. McCall.

CORN.—Rev. J. B. Williams has left
at our office an ear of corn with the small end perfectly filled out and covered with grains. He says if any one will bring its equal he will give them ten more, if their specimen is not equal they must give him ten.

The elegant establishment of W. T. & C. S. Alexander is daily crowded with customers. The ever polite Charlie gives his whole time to the business.

DIALOGUE.

SCENE. SIDE-WALK, in J. V.—A. & B.

A. I will give you 15 cents per lb for your cotton, as far as you owe me.

B. I can do better than that, I think.

A. That is better by 2 cts. than the market justifies.

B. I cannot take that price for my cotton.

A. Have you corn and meat to do
you next year?

B. No, I will have to buy again this year.

A. When will you lay in your provisions for the year?

B. I cannot do that until I sell my bottom.

A. Do you think that the price of corn and meat will rise more certainly,
and in a greater ratio, than cotton?

B. Has not corn already advanced from 50
cts. to 70 and 75 cts. per bushel; and
will it not in a month or two longer sell
at $1.00 to $1.25 and even $1.50?

B. Well, I have not thought much about that.

A. Has not that been the course of things for years passed? not only with corn, but flour, bacon, and lard. Could you not also get every fall or winter, by your pork, at from 5 to 8 cts.? But, by waiting for higher price in cotton, you
paid for your bacon from 15 to 20 cts?
Will you not do about the same this year? History but repeats itself.

Had we not better make our meat and
bread at home,

to succeed James Brooks.
Democrats elect Mayor of Brooklyn. Connor, Tammany candidate for Sheriff, has 25,000 majority.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4.

The election in this city passed off quietly and closed without any disturbance. The vote was large.
All the city returns not in but indications are that Conservative majority for State ticket and Legislature will not be less than 15,000. Leading Republicans here
concede that the Conservatives
have carried the State by 15,000
to 20,000 majority.

Returns received from Norfolk, Danville, Petersburg and various portions of the State indicate a much larger majority for Kemper
than Walker received in 1869,
which was over 18,000.

Gaston, Democrat, for Governor
has 1,500 plurality in this city.
General Banks beats the regular Republican candidate for the State Senate.

In Worcester Gaston has 1,700
majority and Democratic Senators
and members elected to the Legislature.

Lowell gives Gaston 600 majority.

Washburne's majority will be greatly reduced.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 4.

Democratic majority in this city
6300 and whole county 8000.

It is estimated that by the way
the returns came in Taylor will beat Washburn, Republican, by 5,000.
Prominent Republicans concede
his defeat. In towns representing 28,000 votes Taylor gains 3,400
exclusive of his gain in this city
which is over 5,000.

Singerly's printing house is entirely destroyed. From 250 to 300 employed. So rapid was the fire that many had to leap from the second story. Walls fell to the ground. Nothing saved of contents. Last three days proceedings of Constitutional Convention,
extra copies of Convention proceedings and one thousand volumes
belonging to the State Library are all burned. Presses and machinery are total loss. State Journal
office in same building is also destroyed. Singerly's loss is $100,000
and no insurance. Fire spread to three frame buildings and several stables. Lucibel House is somewhat damaged. A falling wall
struck a brick house on opposite
side of the street, damaging it seriously.

New Orleans, Nov. 2.

Three quarters of the square
bounded by Carondelet, Barroune,

The Louisiana Horror.

The beginning of this dispatch
can be found on the fourth page of this paper.

about half a mile from the house
and near where the horrible deed
was perpetrated. The negroes all say that soldiers did the horrible
deeds and if they did they instigated negroes. When the Colonel in command was informed of these things he said his troops were up
here for a higher object than to arrest men for such petty offences.
It is believed that Antoine sent
these creatures up here to give
the negroes a chance for revenge,
and one of them told the writer
that he had the right now, under the protection of the U. S., to shoot
any white man he wanted to shoot
and to violate any woman he met.

He said to him these were State
and not U. S. troops. He said
the Colonel told them all at a negro hall the night before to come to see him; that now they could do as they pleased as they were under the protection of his soldiers.

Special Notices.

Living Advertisements.

A medicine that has done more than all
the prescriptions of the pharmacopoeia to protect the human system against the bodily
ills superinduced by unhealthy surroundings, is certainly worthy of universal consideration. It is mainly on account of its extraordinary preventive properties that Hospeter's Stomach Bitters is so exceedingly popular in localities subject to the visitation
of miasmatic fevers and other diseases introduced by impure air. A family that has escaped sickness during the sickly season in consequence of using the Bitters as a sage-guard, is a living advertisement of the virtues of the preparation. The whole neighborhood realize the fact. "I could not have believed it," says one "I scarcely credited the advertisement; but one must believe what one sees," says another. "It is the very thing we used in this unhealth-
some section of country," remarks a third.
And the result is that the instinct of self-
defence, the first law of nature, induces
three-fourths of that community to obtain a supply of the great vegetable antidote to the next sickly season sets in. In winter, when the system requires extra vigor
and elasticity to enable it to battle the effects of damp and cold, the Bitters will found particularly serviceable. Rheumatism
and will not be apt to fasten upon muscles and will not have been traced up by this excellent invigorant and nervous tonic with the severities of the season, which have such a disastrous effect on the pulmonary organs of the feeble and delicate, be likely to exercise
the same outward influence where the stomach and the external surface of the body (which always sympathizes with the digestive organs) have been thus stimulated by a course of the restorative. The fits of indigestion and irregularities of the bowels
which proceed from sudden changes of weather may always be averted by the timely use of the Bitters.

Penny Davis' Pain Killer.—We have
often spoken of this great medicine in terms of very high praise, and we have
as often felt that all we could say in its favor would not do it full justice. It is one of those medicines of which we can speak—and speak decisively—from experience; for we have repeatedly taken it,
and invariably with the same results
and greatest satisfaction. We always keep it on hand, ready for any emergency, and we regard it not only as one of the best medicines in use for various ills,
but as one of the cheapest also. Its cost
by the way—that is the cost of the ingredients of which it is composed—has been considerably increased, but the price
of the medicine has been but very little advanced. It is not likely that the popularity of Davis' Pain Killer will in any measure decrease, or that the demand
for it will in any degree decline, until some other specific for allaying pain and curing various complaints for which it is equal potency with it—of which there seems to be but little probability. As a remedy for stomach complaints, such as dyspepsia, indigestion, &c., the Pain-Killer is without doubt unsurpassed, and

everywhere most deservedly in demand.
One, two, or three doses, of a teaspoonful each in a wine glass of milk and water, with a little sugar, have repeatedly
within our knowledge, effectually cured
serious trouble of this kind. Judgment
should undoubtedly be used in checking
certain stages of diarrhoea too suddenly;
but taken at the proper time, the Pain-
Killer will act like a charm, and frequently cure when nothing else will.

DESIRABLE.

Every family will find it desirable to keep Magic Arica Liment on hand. It is composed of Extract of Arica, Chlorodyne and rare essential oils, chemically combined, and is always ready,
never becoming solid or rancid. It is beyond question the most powerfully
penetrating liniment made and one bottle is worth a gallon of any other kind.

READ THE EVIDENCE.

LUKA, Miss., July 26, 1869.

Messrs Mansfield & Hybee.

GENTLEMEN: The following are voluntary statements. I make them alone for the good of the suffering. When I was in your city you recommended to me
and advised me to buy the Magic Arica Liment. My reply was, I had no confidence in patent nostrums. I told you
of a hurt I received eleven years since,
that had not been relieved, but was increasing with age. You then presented me with a bottle of this Liment. I took it through courtesy to you. A week after I got home I concluded to use it. I applied it, twice each day for two weeks. Since that time I have felt no pain, but feel as well as I did twenty years ago. The bottle of Liment has been worth more to me than the bottle filled with gold would have been. I recommend this Liment to all who I find suffering with pain from strains, rheumatism, or any other cause
whatever. It recommends itself where-ever sold.

I am, sir, yours, &c.

S. J. WADLEY.

Beyond the Mississippi!

Thousands have already gone, and
thousands more are turning their eyes
towards new homes in the fertile West.
To those going to Missouri, Kansas,
Nebraska, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming,
Nevada, Oregon or California, we recommend a cheap, safe, quick and direct route, via St. Louis, over the Missouri Pacific Railroad, which runs its line day long and all night long from St. Louis
to principal points in the West,
without change. We believe that the Missouri Pacific Railroad has the best
track and finest and safest equipment of any line west of the Mississippi; and its connections with roads further West are prompt and reliable. The Texas connection of this road is now completed,
and passengers are offered a first class
all-rail route from St. Louis to Texas,
either over the Missouri, Kansas & Texas R. R., via Austin. For maps time
tables, information as to rates, routes,
&c., we refer our readers to E. A. Ford
General Passenger Agent, St. Louis Mo.
Questions will be cheerfully and promptly answered.

Interesting to Merchants.

The Wholesale Boot & Shoe house of M. F. GOVAN & Co., Rome, Ga. have received their Fall Stock, which is unusually large. They propose to sell to Merchants at New York prices.
This is no boast. They are reliable, and from what we know of them, we believe
they will do it every time.

They will have an agent with samples
here in a few days.

The Late Elections.

Opinions of Leading Newspapers.

Views from Different Standpoints.

[From the New York Herald of Nov. 5.]

THE NOVEMBER ELECTIONS—SIGNS OF A GENERAL COLLAPSE OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

From the returns of yesterday's elections before us, including New York city and State, Massachusetts, Virginia, Wisconsin &c., a general collapse has apparently fallen upon the Republican Party. Tammany, like a giant refreshed with new wine, rises again with something of its ancient strength, and the fifty-five thousand majority of the Republicans on the State ticket last fall, if not completely obliterated, is almost reduced to nothing. Corresponding results are reported from Massachusetts, Virginia, Wisconsin and other States. The democratic victory of October in Ohio, it may be contended, was accidental; but when we find the East, the West, the North and the South all drifting in the same general direction it is evident, at least, that the sprinkling clouds of October have gathered and strengthened to the proportions of a political cyclone in November. In the history of the country, since the time of Washington, there never was a more overwhelming Presidential success than that of 1872; and in our political annals we have never had in a single year such a general shrinkage for the dominant party from heavy majorities to small ones, and to minorities, as in 1873. The popular whirlwind of 1840, which carried General Harrison into the White House was followed by a marked political reaction in 1841, and there have been some other cases of this kind from time to time; but we have had no reaction of this character to compare with this of 1873, touching the disturbing forces at work, including the demoralizations, divisions, disaffections, discontent and indifference of the party in power to the consequences.

There is something more in all this than local issues and general public indifference concerning them. We remember that the democratic State triumphs of 1872, upon a greatly reduced popular vote in each case, were proclaimed by the democratic journals and accepted by the party as the first waves of a general popular reaction which would sweep into a irresistible tide in 1873, upon which the old party would be borne again into the government. We remember how the democratic Bourbon leaders in the National Party Convention, held in Tammany Hall in 1868, believing that the State triumphs of 1872 signified to their general a popular reaction against the incumbent which the Republicans had successfully fought the war for the Union and the contest of Southern reconstruction. We remember how these Bourbon leaders declared the reconstruction measures of Congress "unconstitutional, revolutionary, null and void," after rejecting the new departure of a recognition of the fact of the war, proposed under the banner of Chief Justice Chase, and we know what followed. We know how triumphantly General Grant carried the country as the Union champion of the war, and in the thirteenth and fourteenth amendments of the constitution, and we know that the same issues were now before the people these elections of 1873 would more signify the rising tide of a political revolution than the elections of 1872.

But these issues of the war are settled, and the democratic party was brought to their recognition through their unexpected victory in New Hampshire in the spring of 1871. From that victory the old Bourbon leaders, learning nothing and forgetting nothing, immediately revived their old-defunct programme against the fixed results of the war, and raised such a hue and cry over New Hampshire that they instantly revived the old Union spirit of the war, so that a few weeks after their great triumph in New Hampshire they were given a rebuke from Connecticut which extinguished their Jack-o'-lantern. Then followed the new departure, inaugurated by the sagacious Vallandigham, in Ohio, and with the grain of this broken, step by step the democratic party, advanced from its old democratic ticket and platform of 1868 to the liberal republican candidates and principles of 1872.

This complete casting away of all the dead issues of the past, this absolute acceptance of the new order of things as established in the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments of the constitution, was too abrupt and too sweeping to be at once accepted and comprehended by the old democratic Bourbons. Hence their objections from the liberal republican ticket of Greeley and Brown Grant. Nevertheless the democratic new departure of 1872, first reproduced by the party in Ohio in 1873, has become the established creed of the party throughout the country. Accordingly there is no longer an inch of ground remaining to fight over in reference to the great principles of universal liberty and civil and political equality as established in the constitution from the results of the war for the Union. The new issue which have taken the place of those old issues rest upon the merits and demerits of General Grant's administration and the party in power. The administration and the republican party are thus thrown upon the defensive, and the development of the financial pressure which weighs like a nightmare upon the country are suggestive of something more in these November elections than public indifference to merely local issues and local candidates.

In the late Presidential campaign there was a general advanced against the election of Greeley, which of itself was decisive against him. It was the plea that this election, with the restoration of the democratic party to the control of the government in the reckless overthrow of our existing financial system, would inevitably precipitate upon the country a financial crisis, a financial convulsion and uttermost confusion, distress, bankruptcy and repudiation. "Let well enough alone," in view of these terrible dangers, was a most potent cry against General Grant's administration. But these fearful dangers which the country was so eloquently and successfully urged to avoid in the re-election of General Grant have come upon us in the first year of his second term, and in the midst of a financial security which has been exalted to the skies as the imperishable glory of the administration and the republican party.

Can we doubt that these overshadowing clouds, these thickening troubles to the business interests and producing classes of the country, have had their effect in these late elections? Is it not apparent that the public mind is awakened to the alarming tendencies of the manifold corruptions disclosed in the Credit Mobilier operations in swindling Pacific railway schemes and such like, in back-pay bills, in reckless government appropriations and expenditures, in Indian frauds, and in the general demoralization of our ruling politicians? Is it not apparent, we ask, that the public mind is at length awakened to the question of a change? Do we not perceive in these elections that the question of Causasian is in process of settlement at the bar of public opinion? In 1852 Pierce was elected President by the votes of all the States except four—two North and two South—and yet from the very excess of its power the democratic party of that day began to fall to pieces in 1853. May that same November elections, then of 1873 be applied as a warning to the present dominant and over-confident republican party?

The Result of the Election.

[From the New York World of Nov. 5.]

The most important day's work done in this country since the close of the war, was accomplished in the States in which elections were held yesterday. The democracy have annihilated the majority of fifty-five thousand by which the Republican party carried the State of New York last year, replacing it by a democratic majority of fifteen thousand, making a gain of ninety thousand in one year! The democratic victory in Ohio, last month, important as that was, was as a small local shower compared with a wide, deluging rain. We have not only triumphed in New York, but have carried Virginia, carried Wisconsin, carried Texas, gained handsomely in New Jersey, and reduced the great Republican majority of seventy-five thousand last year, in Massachusetts to a mere margin of five hundred.

The revolution has only set in by which the Republican party will be overthrown in every important State in the Union as fast as elections are held. A Democratic Congress will be elected next year, and a Democratic President in 1876.

The righteous verdict which has been pronounced against the gross incompotence and the scandalous corruption of our Republican rulers, has been hastened by the present financial disaster; but the grounds of this verdict were as clearly perceived by many minds long before these troubles commenced as they are to-day. The mass of the people, however, are not accustomed to foresee events in their careers; they base their judgment on accomplished facts; but when they see credit prostrated, business ruined, and industry arrested, they justly hold the Government responsible when there is no other cause to which they can trace the disasters. This is what has happened now. The tide was indeed beginning to turn long before these financial disasters came on. The discontent of the agricultural class was a foreboding symptom. The universal cry of denunciation against the salary-grabs and kindred iniquities, was a symptom of shaken confidence. The courage of the Democratic party in Ohio in making a square fight, evoked a growing popular sense that the Republican had lost its prestige, and was ceasing to be invincible. The financial crisis has only accelerated a movement, a slant the Administration was on a re-very was begun. But even with the financial crisis as an explanation, the work of yesterday will fill the Republican leaders with astonishment as well as with consternation. They did not anticipate the fatal blow landing on the wall: "There are waters in the ark, and rocks in the wasteland."

The victory has been more splendid in New York than in any other State, because in New York the Democratic party in its honesty and wisdom to set forth its principles without any qualifying hesitation. We boldly presented a platform in which there was no trimming or ambiguity, in which we told the people with the most perfect frankness and the utmost distinctness what the policy is which the party intends to pursue when it comes into power. The people of the State have signified by their vote a robust approval of the policy, and of the boldness with which it is proclaimed. Had the platform adopted by the Democratic Convention at Omaha been less explicit and courageous, we should have witnessed no such triumph as the people gave us yesterday.

The success in Ohio made it certain that the Democratic party would maintain its organization.

The great victory in New York and the important gains elsewhere make it equally certain that "THIS NIGHT IS FAR SPENT AND THE DAY IS AT HAND."

Yesterday's Elections.

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer Nov. 5.]

The elections yesterday revealed a widespread tendency to right itself with Ohio.

The effect of the election in this State may very likely have been felt in the elections yesterday; at all events, the voters of a dozen States will evince that the opposition to the Republican party is reasonably lively and that the tide of that party to the Government is becoming notoriously discredited. The State of Wisconsin, which voted last year a majority for Grant of 18,315, and elected Washburn in 1871 by a majority of 9,391, defeated him yesterday by an estimated majority of eight thousand votes. The elements of opposition to Republican misrule were marshaled under the name of the Democratic, Liberal and Reform party. The prejudice against the Democratic party and the Democratic name doesn't seem to obtain in Wisconsin, which has been uninterruptedly Republican since 1856. In Massachusetts another incumbent of the Governor's chair has narrowly escaped defeat. That State elected Washburn Governor last year by a majority of 74,274; this year it is doubtful if he has a margin of 10,000 votes. Gen. Banks, who was defeated last year as a coalition candidate for Congress by about 4,500 votes, is this year elected to the State Senate by a majority of nearly 2,000. In Virginia the Conservative ticket is elected by a majority of about 15,000. It should be remembered that there are not far from one hundred and twenty thousand negro votes against one hundred and fifty thousand white votes in that State, and that Grant carried it last year by a small majority. In the towns heard from at 2 A. M. this morning there was a Democratic gain of nearly 18,000 votes outside of the cities of New York and Brooklyn. The indications are that the Democracy have carried the State, by from 15,000 to 20,000 majority. It was expected that the union of the Apollon Hall faction and the Republicans would carry the City of New York by from fifteen thousand majority to twice that. The Democrats have elected their county ticket by 29,900, and gained a majority of 25,000 on the State ticket. From the remaining States in which elections were held yesterday—New Jersey, Maryland, Minnesota, Arkansas, Kansas, Mississippi and Texas—the returns are meager. Indeed, the Virginia, New York and Wisconsin elections were the significant ones. The attention of would-be mourners over the grave of Democracy is invited to the result of those elections.

The following case was referred to by the counsel of Joseph Patsy, at the last term of our (Calhoun) Circuit Court, which gives it somewhat a local interest. Patsy was on trial for the murder of his wife, and was convicted on circumstantial evidence and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. We find the article below giving the rounds of the press.

How Advertising Saved a Man from Being Hanged.

From the New York Evening Post.

Mr. Leonard Sargeant, of Manchester, Vt., formerly active in politics, and once Lieutenant Governor of that State has published a pamphlet containing a narrative of and the evidence in a famous murder case which occurred early in the present century. Mr. Sargeant was one of the counsel for the defense, and his account of the incidents, which covered a period of eight years, is very interesting. The pamphlet is printed for the purpose of giving to lawyers, the points in a case which has often been quoted, but a additional importance is attached to it from the prominent part taken by the newspapers, even at that early day, in public affairs. In 1812 there lived in Manchester a man named Barnaby Bown, who had two sons, Stephen and Jesse, and a son-in-law named Russell Colvin, who was living with him. Colvin was an eccentric man, supposed to be insane at times, and frequently absent himself for days without notice and without giving any account of his adventures. At last he was missing so long that people began

Republican

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, NOV. 16th, 1873.

[For the Republican.]
Chickery, Chick, Chick.

A word of comfort to the bankrupt merchants, broken bankers and their worse than broken creditors, the thousands of discharged laborers—male and female—and other sufferers by the financial panic now pressing upon them in the Northern and Eastern States; while Grant and others of his kindred, Kitch and Kin, are enjoying the luxuries of the "Mobiler Swindle," "Salary Grab," etc., be of good cheer; it is your chickens coming home to roost. The former citizens of your country kidnapped the negro in Africa, enslaved him, sold him to the Southern people for their money; then you robbed them of their slaves, murdered their sons, brothers, husbands and fathers, stole their property, burned their cities, shandered their wives, sisters and daughters and mothers, freed the negro from his former master, bound him to your own Radical party and thus doubly a slave, set him in free over his superiors; suppressed the liberties of that white race in the Southern States, denied them all participation in the Government, turned the negroes loose upon Louisiana and other Southern States, and, in your flush of victory, killed the great pioneer who blazed out the way and led you to victory (H. Greeley) by voting against him, and have brought upon yourselves your present sufferings by voting for Grant and his partisans. Be of good cheer; it is your chickens that are now coming home to roost. Be comforted! This brood is of a domestic nature and will likely stick to you a while. And while they roost with you, you can contemplate the patriotic achievements you have assisted in bringing about. You can relish the pleasures in which the "Credit Mobiler" and "Salary Grab" party luxuriated; and to cap the climax of your enjoyment remember this is the work of your own hands—the result, necessary and inevitable result, of your own voting. It is not the work of Southern Statesmen.

Truly Yours Own
CHICKEN.

A possibly difficult with Spain looms up in the no distant future. The Virginians, a vessel sailing under the American flag, engaged in carrying men and arms to the Cuban patriots was captured by a Spanish man of war, out of Spanish waters, and, first four of the passengers, supposed to be in sympathy with the Cubans, were shot. This aroused enmity and the Spanish Minister was prompt to disclaim on the part of his Government approval of the brutal act. While negotiations have been going on looking to a settlement of the difficulty, the telegraph brings us the intelligence that the Spaniards in Cuba are going right ahead and shooting the remainder of the crew and passengers as fast as powder and lead can do its work. Among the number already shot is Capt. Fry, Captain of the Virginian, and formerly an officer in the Confederate Navy. Already nearly fifty have been shot, and the Court Marshal, says the dispatches, is disposing of other cases with all possible dispatch. To further insult the people of this country, the passengers (both men and women) of a steamer out from New York on the 6th were arrested, on landing in Cuba, and accused of complicity with the patriots and filibusters. It is not improbable that some of them may be shot, as the Spaniards in Cuba regard neither their home Government or stand in awe of the United States. The brutal murder of these people, many of them Americans, has aroused the fiercest indignation of the people of this country, and already the demand is loud for the recognition of belligerent rights to the struggling Cubans, if not absorption of the island by this Government. It is about time we should take Cuba in out of the wet, and send those cruel and blood-thirsty savages over to Spain to fight Carlism and Catholics.

Three Cheers for Old Madison.

The election on last Tuesday, of Mr. Grayson the Democratic and Conservative candidate for the State Senate, over Nick Davis the nigger-radical candidate, is peculiarly gratifying to our people. The handsome majority of 200 votes of Mr. Grayson is another evidence of the fraud used in that county in the last gubernatorial election, and that when the voices of the people can be heard, a fair vote had and the people have confidence that they will not be defrauded, their voice is always in apposition to the party of corruptionists, lack pay robbers, and negro lovers. This rebuke to the little Sutter Spencer, the would be U. S. Senator from Alabama, who was on the ground at the time of the election and could not absent himself long enough to attend the negro labor convention at Montgomery, would be keenly felt if he did not have the hide of rhinoceros.

Three cheers for Old Madison.

Calhoun County.

Christopher Columbus under the patronage of that lovely Queen Isabella of Spain, was the first discoverer of America. So also Christopher Columbus Wilkinson, of Rabbit-Town, Calhoun County, Ala., was in town the other day, the man who cleared the first six acres of land in said county, helped build the first Store-house for the late Judge J. B. Pendleton at the site of Jas. L. Hokes present dwelling; on the hill that over-looks the big deer-hack, helped to build too, the first mill in the county at or near where the Abernathy mills now stand.

NATIVE OF

AND STILL THEY COME.—Arkans as comes tumbling in Democratic along with the rest of them. The Legislature on joint ballot stands, sixty-six Democrats to forty-two Radicals.

The Democratic party has been pronounced upon high political authority to be dead. Now this dead party just at present has the Governor and Legislature of Connecticut. It has the State officers of New York with all the patronage of the Canal Board, and a Governor and Legislature of Delaware; Ditto Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. In Virginia it gains a United States Senator. In North Carolina it has the Legislature. In Georgia both Legislature and Governor. In Ohio the same. Ditto Kentucky and Tennessee. It has the Legislature in Texas and the Governor in Indiana. It has the Governor and Legislature in Missouri. It has the Governor and Legislature in Wisconsin. In connection with other elements of opposition it will control the Legislatures of Kansas and California. Four or five years ago it had scarcely a Governor or Legislature in the Union and now it will run from one-third to nearly one-half of them. While the Democratic party is not dead there is another party which appears to be very unwell.—Cin. Enquirer.

After leaving Clanton yesterday morning on the passenger train of the S. & N. R. R., an accident occurred to the engine which had it not been for the coolness and bravery of Cad Bode, the master mechanic of the road who was running the engine, might have resulted in the death of many passengers and the destruction of the train.

The parallel rod of the engine broke causing other parts of the machinery to give way and in an instant the engine and tender were enveloped in a dense cloud of steam. The connecting rods broke and struck Mr. Bode on the right side, throwing him over on the fireman's side. The severity of the blow this gallant man stood to his post and succeeded amidst the escape of the scalding steam in checking the progress of the train, and thus ensured the safety of the large number of passengers. Such an act of bravery deserves to be applauded, and had opportunity and time permitted a handsome testimonial could have been obtained from the passengers in behalf of Mr. Bode, whose daring presence of mind averted what would otherwise have resulted in a terrible railroad catastrophe.—Montgomery Ad.

The Crisis and the Newspapers.

Our Atlanta cotemporary, the Constitution, has some sensible observations on this subject which are commended to the attention of our friends and patrons:

Have the merchant, the business men, the readers of the press, ever thought of the subject matter of this article? They certainly should do it, and the reflection would incite to more generous action. There is no interest more deeply affected by momentary stringency than that of the newspaper, for there has been, and still is in the minds of many, too loose an idea of the moral obligation to pay printer's bills. That sort of thing is rapidly passing away, but it has been a common occurrence for men to sit with sanctified faces in their church pews on the Sabbath, and yet week after week most wrongfully withhold from the poor newspaper man even the pittance due for subscription.

All over the country factories, railroad corporations and business houses of all kinds, are discharging operatives and curtailing expenses. How with the newspaper? Of all business enterprises in such times as these the newspaper is the only one not contracting. We have discharged no employee, nor decreased a dollar of wages. Now these are facts. Do business men do the readers of newspapers appreciate them? Do they try to pay their little bills? Or do they put the printer last, but find fault with a vengeance, if reading matter happens to grow a little less. Let the newspaper receive more consideration—in those times every thoughtful man will make extra effort to sustain the press, upon which falls the burden of the stringency, yet to which comes no relaxation or contraction of expenses.

Holiday and Staple Goods.

The Book and Music Store of H. A. Smith filled with New and Choice Goods.

We have, with great pleasure, visited the above establishment and looked through the endless variety of goods he has received of his recent purchases, and feel confident that a greater variety was never offered in this market. He was in market about five weeks and personally selected his stock; his purchases were made for cash at public prices and he is actually selling the same goods at less than present New York wholesale prices. He is enabled to do this by reason of the low prices paid for the goods; no store house rent to pay; no one to divide profits with, consequently the fact that he sells goods low is not surprising.

Mr. Smith is giving special attention to oil paintings and chromos and will always keep his gallery well stocked with this line of goods, and will sell them at greatly reduced prices.

The line of staple goods is one of the largest ever opened in this market, while the holiday and fancy goods are endless in variety and quality.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA.

I, Alexander Woods, Judge of Probate court in and for said County, do hereby certify, that the foregoing contains a true list of all the claims allowed at the November Term of the court of county commissioners, 1873, as appears to me of record in my office. Given under my hand, November 11th, 1873.

A. WOODS, Judge of Probate.

HYMEN.

JACKSONVILLE, A. L. A.

Nov. 10, 1873.

It is with feelings of the most exhilarating pleasure and unbounded joy, that the marriage is announced, of two of the most distinguished and well known persons in the commercial world:

MISS. LOW PRICES AND
MR. STRICTLY FOR CASH.

The ceremony was performed at the late residence of the lamented Mrs. Credit System, now occupied by the that enterprising merchant, ED. L. WOODWARD.

A brilliant retinue of attendants were present at the consummation of this most happy affair; among whom, were Miss. Clear Conscience, Miss. Prosperity, Mr. Ready Pay, Mr. No Credit and numerous other distinguished friends of the Low Prices and Strictly For Cash families, living in this section.

The ceremony was most impressive, and while the bride was arrayed in calico, sold by Ed. L. Woodward, at 12½ cents per yard, and, in fact, her whole costume bought at his cheap cash store, it was the universally expressed opinion, that a lovelier bride, more tastily dressed, was never given into the arms of a new made husband. It is hardly necessary to add, that at the place where these nuptials were celebrated, the store of Ed. L. Woodward, Public Square, Jacksonville Ala., goods of the style as those worn by the bride and all other goods in his stock can be bought at remarkably low prices, for cash.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful and potent ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs enervated beyond repair. Bilious Remitters, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Portify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fortified. Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the warnings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement. Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Scalded Skin, Gout, Rheumatism, Inflammation, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, &c. In these, as in all other constitutional diseases, the VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Painters, Type-setters, Gold-beaters and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Itch, Scalds, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scald, &c. Eruptions of the Skin, Humors, and all cases of the kind, whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, or anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the time of life, these Bitters effect a cure, and give an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is full; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Hannah Binding Shoes.

BY J. V. LARSON.

Poor lone Hannah,

Sitting at the window, binding shoes!

Stitching, stitching, in a mournful mood!

Bright-eyed beauty once was she,

When the bloom was on the tree.

Spring and Winter

Hannah's at the window, binding shoes.

Not a neighbor

Passing nod or answer will refuse

To her whisper:

"Is there from the fishers any news?"

"O her lover's exile with one

On an endless voyage gone!"

Night and morning

Hannah's at the window, binding shoes.

For young Hannah,

How the sun-light flatters, gayly woo;

And the waves are laughing so

For her wedding.

Hannah leaves her window and her shoes.

May's passing;

And the sun-light flatters a pensive mood;

And the waves are laughing so

For her wedding.

Hannah leaves her window and her shoes.

For young Hannah,

How the sun-light flatters, gayly woo;

War.—Since our paper was made up and some numbers printed off, the war question has assumed a much graver aspect. Friday night's telegrams state that the Virginians have been sunk to pre-empt a possible restoration. The ultimatum presented by the U. S. Minister Sikes had not been answered up to the latest hour given. Mr. Sikes had been instructed to demand his passport and return home, and he is said to express himself as having no hope of a peaceful settlement.

Republican LOCAL NOTICE!

ALEXANDRIA, ALA., NOV. 15
GREEN & LEBETTER

Will book no more goods after this date, to ANY PERSON, until '74 unless they are due the parties, or as an advance on their cotton in hand. Ladies dress goods at cost, for cash. Prices in the entire stock greatly reduced. Better bargains can't be found, for cash. Parties will please look after as due paper in their hands.

We notice among our exchange papers the usual number of pale faces, occasioned by the cold weather of last week. Newspaper readers should be charitable and patient with printers at such times. It is no easy matter to make type, paper, rollers and ink all work in cold weather. It often too, in the early part of the season catches them unprepared "old probabilities" not giving them sufficient notice beforehand. A printer's work at best, in many instances is very disagreeable work in cold weather, but the mortification of bad print is to them a much greater affliction.

SHOES.—JUST RECEIVED AT WOODWARD'S—PRICES LOW.

Attention is specially invited to the advertisement of E. L. Woodward, Sr. requesting payment from debtors, published in the last and present issues of our paper.

JUST RECEIVED—by DRAPER & JOHNSON, a lot of McCroskey's superior and celebrated FLOUR, and for sale at lowest market price.

We have used for months the above mentioned flour, and know it to be entitled to all that is claimed for it.

See notice of sale of a valuable tract of land by John M. Patterson, Executor.

Collars, Cuffs, Blue Opera Flannel and other goods received at Ed. Woodward's this week.

On and after the first day of December next I will sell all groceries for cash. I hope my customers will consider this and not ask for credit.

L. J. PARR.
Col. Parr has a large stock of Groceries which he is selling lower than ever Strictly for Cash.

Those in need of Groceries will consult their own interest by calling on Col. Parr before buying elsewhere as he is determined to sell lower than the lowest.

Great reduction in the prices of Groceries. I will sell Groceries on the basis of the present cotton prices, and will take cotton at cash prices for goods. L. J. PARR.

Col. Parr does not want any more scrap Iron, or Rags at Present. Groceries at Panic Prices, for cash only. Come and see.

We invite the attention to the Advertisement of M. A. TURNER, and bespeak for him the liberal patronage of our citizens. We have said time & again that Mr. Turner is a good and faithful workman; and it is certainly to the interest of all to have their clothing well made, and of good material. It is the purpose of Mr. Turner soon as he can perfect agreements to keep on hand every description of timings, for the convenience and accommodation of his patrons.

We have been favored by that prince of Florists and Seedsmen, Mr. James Vick, of Rochester N. Y. with a copy of his splendidly illustrated Floral Guide. This work is published Quarterly and contains about 200 pages, and 500 Engravings. Mr. Vick has an experience in the business of a quarter of a century, we can form business transactions with him, assure all who may wish to forward orders that they will always find him accommodating accurate and prompt.

BY TELEGRAPH.

DUBLIN, Nov. 23.

Sixty thousand people took part in the meeting in favor of home rule to-day. Speeches and processions followed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.

Boutwell, in lecturing on finances and the panic, referring to Cuba matters deprecated the idea of war, counselled moderation and argued that our sympathies and naval aid ought to be given to Spain in her effort to establish the republic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.

All efforts to obtain a stay for William M. Tweed proved ineffectual.—Judges Pratt and Ingraham both refused to grant it, and at 10 minutes past 1 Tweed was removed from the sheriff's office to the Tombs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.

The first intimation yesterday of a probable change of administration in Spain with Serrano as dictator came through British official sources.

To-day the story is raised in another quarter, namely, that the Castelar Government is to be overthrown by combination of ruling Spaniards. The plan is said to include the establishment of Marshal Serrano as Regent for the young Duke Alfonso. Our Government has no official advice on the subject, nor does it consider these reports trustworthy.

John W. Hicks, vs. Wm. P. Barnes.

ATTACHMENT.

WHEREAS, John W. Hicks having applied to me for an attachment against the property of W. P. Barnes, and having obtained the same, and it appears that said W. P. Barnes is not a resident of this State, and that his residence is in the city of Brunswick, Georgia, now the said Barnes is hereby notified, by publication 4 successive weeks in the Jacksonville Republican, of the pendency of said attachment; and that the same has been levied by serving a garnishment on the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad Company. Now if the said W. P. Barnes does not appear at my office in Jacksonville, Calhoun county, in the State of Alabama, on the fourth Monday of December, A. D. 1873, I will proceed to give judgment on said attachment, in the same manner as if the said Barnes were present, to answer and defend the same.

Given under my hand at office, on the 12th day of November, 1873.

D. P. FORNEY,
Judge of the Peace.
